URADICS is proud to announce the launch of Seminar on Digital Signature and Cyber Laws for the benefit of students. The seminar in this series is going to focus on providing an overview and insight into how the Indian IT Act, 2000 impacts the authentication of Digital Signature, implementing best practices, resulting in faster and secure global world.

It has always been a motive of URADICS to create awareness among students. Many students doing professional courses in IT have heard of these technical jargons, but are still not aware of what they mean and how it affects our life. We hope that these seminars will help students in having a better understanding and eventually create a strong globally competent workforce for the benefit of both, the industry and the individual.

'Today's students are going to be the future of tomorrow. So it becomes very necessary for our workforce to know the implications of various issues regarding security. Security is one of the primary issues requiring attention in any organization and we hope that these seminars are going to have great value-addition to the professional's knowledge.' says, Pulkit Agrawal, Director, URADICS.
